

NEJM Journal Watch Online

Emails are a great way of raising patron awareness. Simply copy and paste the message below into an email you can send to your entire community.

NEW SUBSCRIPTION ANNOUNCEMENT!

We are pleased to announce that your library has purchased a subscription to NEJM Journal Watch. Used by practicing clinicians around the world, this highly trusted literature surveillance resource reviews and summarizes the most important research, medical news, drug information, public health alerts, and guidelines across 12 medical specialties. Let our team of physician-editors become your personal team of professional advisors.

Keep current on the latest content by creating a free personal account and signing up for timely content alerts including the following:

- Specialty Updates: Sent every week with links to the newest summaries published
- Topic Updates: Monthly emails for each of 11 key topics in medicine
- Physician's First Watch: Quick overview of the latest medical news sent by 7 AM each morning (Monday–Saturday)

Please reach out to your librarian with further questions.